

Wisconsin Woodland Owners Association

Volunteer Information Factsheet

Welcome to the WWOA Volunteer Program! This organization runs because of you and for people like you. Each of us has a story to tell and talent to offer. This is your opportunity to contribute to a better future for WWOA, your woodlands, yourself, and woodland owners and woodlands across the state. Your commitment and passion can truly make a difference, won't you volunteer?

What Will Your Story with WWOA Be?

As a part of the WWOA Volunteer Program, you may make an influential decision for a committee or help lead the best Annual Meeting yet. You might host a field day to show off your land, or offer your thoughts or expertise on a woodland management issue. There are so many opportunities to get involved with WWOA, we are excited you have chosen to do so. What will your story be? We can't wait to see.

We Are WWOA

Share, Serve, & Grow with a group of Diverse, Dynamic, & Devoted volunteers.

We share our passion, effect positive change, appreciate WWOA, have fun, learn, and strengthen relationships. Without you WWOA could not promote the interests of private woodland owners or sustainable forest management. That's why we're passionate about making this your WWOA.

A WWOA Story

Dean and Kay Mehlberg have hosted field days in their woods, served on Chapter Boards, managed their land, and helped their community. Your story and passion will create opportunities and experiences for you and the WWOA community. Like the Mehlbergs you're already helping us to promote sustainable forestry. Let us continue to share, serve, and grow together.

“This association is not something you ‘belong to’ - it is you!”

-Ernie Brickner, WWOA's first president

Volunteer Program Mission

WWOA's Volunteer Program is dedicated to empowering our volunteers in positions that interest and inspire them, and allow them to succeed to their greatest potential, while contributing to the education, outreach, and advocacy of private woodland owners.

Volunteer Rights

WWOA Volunteers have the right to:

- Explore positions that build upon their skills and offer fulfillment
- Know the expectations of their role
- Understand their part in WWOA's mission
- Receive encouraging training, orientation, and development opportunities
- Give their input and feedback in an open and responsive setting
- Be recognized for their outstanding efforts
- Work with WWOA Leadership to create new possibilities for the organization
- Be successful and happy

To Contact the WWOA Volunteer Center:

715-346-4798

volunteer.wwoa@gmail.com

Creating Tomorrow's Woodlands Today

